Fact: Mobile Apps Increase Revenues

Your customers are devoted to your brand, but are they loyal to your dealership? Many dealerships already cater to their customers through mobile websites, but that is only part of the equation. Mobile websites lack the ability to create that personal, customized service. To drive revenues for existing customers, while fostering leads and relationships with new prospects, a branded mobile application is a dealer's best all-in-one solution.

Auto Dealer App by Pulse allows dealers to empower their customers through the simplicity of their smartphone. Any task related to the customer's vehicle is quickly and easily handled after simply downloading the app. Dealers can then send sales, service or parts promotions, special coupons and detailed service reminders. Dealers are also able to integrate or implement loyalty programs and provide many other customer service functions.

Why Invest In A Branded Mobile App?

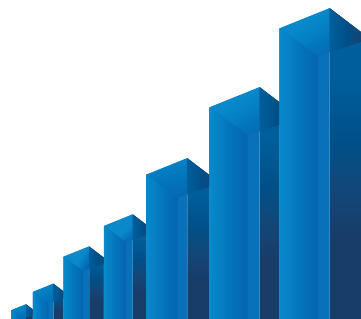

- Deepen analytics & insight into customer behaviour
- Provide a seamless user experience through existing smartphone features
- Stay "top of mind" via the app on your customer's phone
- Send mobile coupons which are redeemed at 10 times the rate of traditional coupons
- Provide ease of access as 2 out of 3 customers are already researching cars on their smartphones when at the dealership
- Be innovative as apps will be a key feature in the future of connected cars
